DES MOINES, IOWA,
March 20th, 1871.

FRIEND FROST:—I have just been reading my article in your paper of March 8th, and it reminds me of the time when I used to think that it would be a wonderful thing to see something I had written in print; well, the mighty event has actually transpired, and it does not seem much of an event after all. Still, I must correct your type in one particular point, and quite a serious point, too, for people do not like to have their acts stigmatized as theivish: still that which deprives the public of hearing both sides to any question on any subject whatever that is of importance enough to have one side presented, is a downright robbery of the inherent rights of a free people; and therefore your readers will please read "Free thought is crucified between two thieves (not theories) of close doored churches and high priced halls."

And so you have a Y. M. C. A. in your midst. And for what purpose?
Obviously to help the widow and the orphan, to throw good influences around the young, to furnish independence to those who are away from home influences to lead a correct life, etc., etc. All very good, very good, indeed; but if this is all why restrict its membership to those who believe in certain dogmas, why exclude Universalists, Unitarians and others who love the good for the sake of the good whether members of any particular church or not? Are there no good young men among the Catholics of your city that they should be excluded? Why this "and by thyself, I am holier than thou" spirit of "visiting the widow and the fatherless in their affliction," and doing good generally is the only permanent object?

The fact is, friend Frost, many people suspect, yea more than suspect that the Young Men's Christian Association and the Evangelical Alliance are among the agencies that are being brought to bear upon the question of religious liberty in this country.

I find in a recent Standard an extract from a religious newspaper published in Boston, Mass., in which the editor is trying to intimidate legurs who speak on Sunday, and agents who negotiate for them says: "The Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States control a majority of the Lycceums, and they will wage a warfare against this daring innovation." Said editor further threatens that the Evangelical power of every city (should Boston prove incorrigible) will be brought to bear against such agents and lecturers. Still further, he calls upon the clergy to make their voices heard so that the dailies shall no longer dare to ignore the question.

And has it come to this? Is the freedom of the press to be sacrificed, its editors forced to speak or not to speak, as the power representing certain religious ideas shall dictate? If the Y. M. C. A. do control a majority of the institutions for the secular instruction and amusement of commu-ity it is time we knew it. Bid them God speed in all the good they can do, we certainly should, but they will bear watching; or at least, they ought to bear it, and to this end there should be a place provided by the friends of free thought, in every town or village where these Associations are formed, —a place where both sides of every question pertaining to the welfare of the people, every question of progress in science, art, or religion can be freely and fully discussed; and those who oppose such discussion, no matter what name they are called,—all such are the real infidels, from the fact that they doubt the power of truth.
"If the truth shall make us free, then shall we be free indeed."

Since reading the above quotations in the Standard I find in the Boston press accounts of an attempt made by one of the sects represented in the Evangelical Alliance, to suppress the distribution of tracts by force of law, taking advantage of a city ordinance which they hoped could be made to cover this case.

"If they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry?" It seems that the minister speaking said sect in a protracted effort at soul saving, had made certain statements in reference to Unitarian belief, which a certain Unitarian minister did not deem quite correct, and in order to show the people the true state of the case, said minister took to distributing tracts to the multitudes as they came from the place of worship. This so enraged the pious ones who were not willing that both sides of the question should be presented that they sent a policeman to summon the Unitarian gentleman to answer to the charge of pursuing a calling in the public street without a license. They failed in their object, it is true, but if they succeed in engrafting their religious amendment upon our constitution, do you think they will fail the next time?

Some three years since a writer in a temperance paper published in this state said, "This is a Christian country, its institutions are Christian institutions, and we do not intend to be ruled by German free thinkers. Look well to it, German free thinkers of Massillon, and all others who dare to have a mind of your own, look well to it that this Y. M. C. A. does not rule you.
Vie with them in good works; if they will not let you work with them, work independently, but see to it that you have a place where the other side of the question of all questions can be discussed."

I am no Christian in the theological sense of that term, but I know that there are good people among all the sects, and also outside of sects, but deliver me from the bondage of a constitutional religion, and they may say what they please about the danger of Catholic power, I am bold to assert that there is equal danger from Protestant power.

We are having unusually fine weather; the Des Moines and Coon rivers broke up a month ago.

AMUSEMENTS.
I find in a recent Register under the above heading a notice of democratic ward meetings, and a democratic city convention. The Rev. R. W. Wheeler, D. D. recently lectured at Cedar Falls on Woman's Rights. The doctor favors woman's rights but is opposed to woman's voting. I don't find many items of interest and so will close for the present. M. WHEE.

THE SHAWLS OF CASHMERE.

BY S. J. FRICHARD.

There are no camel's hair shawls, nor can I learn by much searching of many authorities, that shawls are or ever were made of camel's hair at all.
On the highest inhabited tableland of the earth, the average height of which is about 14,000 feet above the level of the sea, lives and thrives the Tibet goat.

Nature has supplied this goat with a covering the warmest and softest that is known to exist; and every attempt to remove the animal from his high home has proved a failure, for nowhere else will the supply of wool remain sufficient to pay for the trouble of keeping. The animal has a coating of long, coarse hairs, underneath which is found the exquisitely soft substance that is almost without a name, it being too fine for hair, and too straight for wool.

The fleece is conveyed from Thibet —a month's journey ere it reaches the Vale of Cashmere—the Vale of Cashmere in Northern India, where the women are beautiful as no other women are, and where the men have attained to the perfection of the Asiatic physical man. Who has not heard of dreamed of this valley where the shawls are made?

The date of the manufacture of the Cashmere shawl has not been learned, nor is it positively known of what origin the Cashmereans are. They appear to be of Hindoo descent.

Arrived in Cashmere from Thibet, the wool is carefully, slowly and patiently collected, fibre by fibre, the choicest being selected for the costly shawls, probably the $50,000 ones.

The color is gray as received. It is bleached by the aid of a preparation of rice flour, after which it is dyed. It is then given to the women, who spin it. It is estimated that one half the weight is lost in preparation of the article before it is woven.

The yarn is next given out to the weavers by a merchant who enters largely into the shawl trade, and employs a large number of shops in which the men work for him, or else he supplies a certain number of overseers with yarn, delivering to them at the same time instructions as to color, quality and pattern, and these men carry on the manufacture at their own houses, with the aid of ordinary weavers. The overseers receive six or eight pice a day for their wages; common workmen from one to four, or about three and a half pence.

A remarkably fine and elaborate shawl will sometimes occupy a shop for a whole year, four persons being employed on it.
Plain and inexpensive shawls are made with a long and heavy shuttle, but the shawls of many colors and wondrous patterns are worked with wooden needles instead of a shuttle, there being a separate needle for every color, and the more tints there are in a shawl, the greater its cost. In the fine shawls, scarcely a quarter of an inch is completed by three or four persons in a day.

In order to hasten the process many of the shawls are woven in separate pieces at different looms. They are afterwards so dexterously joined together as to evade ordinary scrutiny, and sometimes it is impossible to discover the junction.

One object, in dividing the work up on a shawl, is to avoid loss by insects and time, as it would take three years to complete certain shawls if made entire.

The worker puts in the pattern on the wrong side of the shawl, and, if it is new, or especially difficult, an overseer directs every movement with the pattern before him.

The shawls of Cashmere are always made with both sides alike, although, in the weaving, one side is called the rough side.

Queen Victoria receives by treaty five Cashmere shawls each year, or did a brief time ago.

In Cashmere, the shawl—not the finest, which are almost fabulous in price, and find their way into Turkey, and seldom thence,—are worth from five to eight hundred dollars. They pay duties at every step of the way thence, so that, arriving in London they are worth two thousand dollars.

There are but few real Cashmere shawls in the United States, the articles known to commerce and republican shoulders being French and English imitations.

The English have established manufactories at Delhi and Lahore. The labor is carried on by native Cashmereans, and although the material is quite the same, the fabrics have a coarse, degenerated appearance, difficult to account for.

There is a mystery about the shawls of Cashmere.

It may be some peculiarity of the water of the wonderful valley, pouring down from the heights of the wonderful mountains; it probably is the tedious process of arranging the fibres, hair by hair just as they grew; or it may be the special education of sight enabling the workers to weave tints separately which our blind eyes could not distinguish; or it may be many little things combined. Certain it is that France with all her proud looms, has not yet made one shawl to outvie the soft, yielding, wonderful creation which almost float out of the Valley of Cashmere.—Heath and Howe.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAIL-ROAD.

By SCHUYLER COLFAX.

Midway across the continent—at the head of twelve hundred miles from Buffalo, the western terminus of the Eric Canal, and as near to it by water as Chicago—a hundred miles west of the longitude of St. Louis or Galena—is the young city of Duluth, the initial point of the Northern Pacific Railroad.
That great work, so magnificently endowed by the Government, is already being pushed rapidly westward, under its energetic controllers; and before the snow flies next Fall, it will be completed to the western line of Minnesota, where it crosses the Red River of the North—which runs northward to Lake Winnipeg—and one-eighth of its distance to the Pacific Ocean will have been accomplished. Commencing, too, this season on its western line, the work will be prosecuted from both directions, and long before the nation celebrates its Centennial Anniversary of Independence, the Lakes will be united by iron bands with that Mediterranean of our Northwest, Puget Sound.

Of the auspicious influence of this enterprise, which but a few years ago would have been considered so daring, the most sanguine of its friends have scarcely yet a full realization. Even taking Chicago as the starting point, it will be (via St. Paul, where an arm of the Northern Pacific Railroad is reached) two hundred miles less distance to Puget Sound than to San Francisco.
Besides this, vessels from the Golden Gate to China sail on what is called the grand circle, instead of in a straight line; and any one testing this by a string on a globe will be surprised at the result, if they have not previously studied the effects of the roundness of the earth, and its diminished protuberance as you go northward towards the Pole. Hence, when they have sailed eight hundred miles from San Francisco, they are only one hundred miles from the entrance to Puget Sound; and this striking fact shows the advantages this route will have in commanding the through traffic of Asia with our Atlantic States, or that portion of it which will pass over the soil of this nation on its road to Europe.

Nor is this all. Development is the great duty of the Republic, after all its recent trials. Resources are the gift of the Creator. Developing them depends on the work of man.
Along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, as it follows up the watercourses, the Missouri and the Yellowstone on this side, and descends by the valley of the Columbia on the other, a vast body of agricultural land is waiting for the plough, with a climate almost exactly the same as that of New York, except that, with less snow, cattle, in that portion of it, can subsist on the open range in winter.

Here, if climate and fertility of soil produces their natural results, when railroad facilities open this now isolated region to settlement, will soon be seen waving grain fields, and happy homes, and growing towns, while ultimately a cordon of prosperous States, teeming with population, and rich in industry and consequent wealth, will occupy that now undeveloped and almost inaccessible portions of our continental area.

But this Road is fortunate also in its pathway across the two ranges of mountains which tested so severely the reflected such well deserved honor on their energetic builders. At the Deer Lodge Pass, in Montana, where it crosses the Rocky Mountains, its altitude above the sea is 3500 feet less than the Union Pacific Railroad at Sheridan, which is said to be the highest point at which a locomotive can be found in the world. And on the Pacific side of the Continent it is even more fortunate. From Arizona up to the Arctic Circle the Columbia is the only river which has torn its way through that mighty range, the Andes of North America, which in California is known as the Sierras, and which in Oregon changes to the Cascades. Nature has thus provided a pathway for the Northern Pacific Road through these mountains, the sealing of which, on the other line, at an elevation of over seven thousand feet (a most wonderful triumph of engineering) cost the Central Pacific Company millions of dollars, and compelled them, for seventy miles, to maintain a grade of over one hundred feet to the mile—twice the maximum of the Northern Pacific at the most difficult point on its entire route.

It is fortunate, also, in its terminus on the Pacific coast. No one who has not been there can realize the beauty of Puget Sound and its surroundings. One hundred miles long, but so full of inlets and straits that its navigable shore-line measures seventeen hundred and sixty miles, dotted with lovely islets, with gigantic trees almost to the water's edge, with safe anchorage everywhere, and stretching southward, without shoals or bars, from the Straits of Juan de Fuca to the capital and centre of Washington Territory, it will be a magnificent entrepot for the commerce of that grandest ocean of the world, the Pacific.

The Land Grant of the United States, exceeding over Fifty Millions of acres in the winter wheat region of our nation (ten times as large as the area of Massachusetts), is doubtless sufficient for the completion of the Road; but, besides this, millions of private means are already invested in it. The bonds based on the Land Grant, and a mortgage on the Road it self in addition, are being sold as rapidly as the money is needed; and, as an investment, yielding about eight per cent per year in currency, rank already with the best class railroad securities. And thus the good work will go on with unneeded step to its final consummation, carrying the benefits of settlement, development, civilization, and Christianity with it in its progress, and literally causing the wilderness to blossom as the rose.

Of all animals perhaps none are more interesting to both young and old than birds. Their presence in the fields and hedges, in the groves and forests, their beautiful, and, in many kinds, splendid colors, their sweet songs, and their curious and wonderful habits, charm and delight every one.

Birds are vertebrates which are covered with feathers, furnished with a bill, and fitted for flight,—their form as well as their structure being adapted for easy and rapid movement through the air; even their bones are hollow, hence very light in proportion to their size. It is an interesting fact that the form and the skeleton of a bird suggests the right way in which to build a ship in order to combine strength with swiftness.

Although the body of a bird is covered with feathers, these do not grow from the whole surface, but are arranged in rows and patches, with bare spaces between. Feathers are made up of a hard central portion or shaft, and a vane, the latter being the broad portion which consists of delicate plates that are united by minute fibres along their edges, and thus made firm —the plates not separating from one another when pressed against the air, as in flying. There are, however, downy feathers on every bird such as do not have the plates united. The plumage of birds is make waterproof by the oil with which they dress their feathers twice a year, and in many kinds the winter plumage differs in color from that of the summer. In most birds the colors of the male are more brilliant than those of the female.

Birds swallow their food without chewing it, and it is first received into a sack called the crop, then it passes into another sack, where it is moistened and softened; then it passes to the gizzard, where it is digested. The gizzard generally contains gravel, and other hard substances, which, these animals swallow to aid digestion.

BIRDS.

Birds lay eggs and sit upon them to hatch them, and most birds build nests in which to rear their young, those of the same kind build alike. The young bird in the egg has a horny point at the bill, with which it breaks the shell.
This point is plainly seen on the bill of the newly hatched chickens; in a few days it falls off.

The number of kind of birds is ten or twelve thousand, and there are about seven hundred kinds in North America. Birds of prey, the climbers, the perchers, the soarers, the runners, the water, and swimmers are the large groups into which birds are divided.

The birds of prey are the vultures, eagles, hawks, falcons, owls. Most of them capture birds and other animals for food. They are mostly of large size, and have a strong hooked bill, sharp claws, great spread of wings, and very powerful muscles, and the females are generally larger than the males. They live in pairs, and choose their mates for life.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Russell & Co. have now a pretty full force of men at work in the various departments of their establishment. When the whistle blows dismissal in the evening it looks as if something like a regiment of men can be seen on the move, with their tin pails, for home. Such a force will turn out an immense amount of work during the season.

Can it be true that a wholesale liquor shop is to be put in a room opposite the Opera House? If such is the case it is a source of regret, and it is questionable whether such an enterprise will meet with the approval of the better part of our community. Time will test the matter.

Our correspondent, M. Wood, takes the liberty of criticizing some of our institutions. We are for freedom of speech and the press, and think no organization above examination. If any dissent from the writer's views these columns are open.

The annual Christian state Sunday school convention will be held at Mt. Vernon, commencing on the 4th of April, and continuing the two following days. Dr. Gerrold of this place can give full information concerning the means of going there and back.

J. R. Oppenheimer, of the enterprising firm of S. Koch & Co., has gone for new goods. Joe says that after his return he will display a larger and finer stock of goods pertaining to their line, than was ever seen in this city. So don't fail to give them a call.

We call the attention of our readers to the Advertisement of Messrs. Beckwith, Sterling & Co., Carpet Dealers, Cleveland. These gentlemen have one of the most extensive Carpet establishments in the west, and we hope those in want of elegant carpets and fine curtains, will take a trip to Cleveland to see them.

Home relief Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. Skinner on Saturday afternoon instead of Thursday.

Dress goods—the largest stock in town, will be opened at Ricks' this week.

THE UNION NATIONAL BANK OF MASSILLON.

Clement Russell, Esq., has been elected President of this institution in place of Thomas McCullough, resigned.

Carpets of all kinds at Ricks' cheaper than the cheapest.

Look Out—Mr. S. LOEW has just gone east for new goods, and will soon return with a big assortment.

We notice Mr. J. S. Kelley, of the firm of Kelley & Brown left for New York this morning. Look out for the largest stock of hardware ever brought to the city.

Special inducements in embroidery at Ricks'.

P. & H. DIEHLIEN, just opening stock of clothing. See advertisement next week.

According to certain indications it looks as if people of Jackson township are to have a gay time at next Monday's election. Some of them are pretty well warmed up on local politics. Big taxes seems to be the great bone of contention.

Messrs. I. N. Dorse and George Archer have taken charge of the carriage establishment formerly under the supervision of H. Walzer & Son. The proprietors are prepared to carry it on vigorously, and will be ready to fill all orders with which they may be favored. They are successful, enterprising business men, and favorably known in this community.

Diehlens, at their beautifully fitted up store two doors west of us, have just received their first instalment of goods, and are now prepared to supply all who may call on them with everything in the way of clothing, and that of the latest styles and best quality. Their attraction soon will be temptation to all who desire to be suited with a new rig.

Wm. Mauz & Son have just issued their announcement that they are prepared to furnish our citizens with everything in the boot and shoe line, including all styles and prices. They have removed their depot to their new stand, where they are ready to receive the calls of all requiring anything in their line.

Mr. A. Harsh is repairing, and painting up his store room, and materially improving its appearance. He is an energetic, industrious business man, and an exemplary citizen, and keeps quite a variety of goods, but his principal stock is in parasols and umbrellas, a vast variety of which he always has for sale.

The Carroll County Chronicle is the name of a new paper just started at the county seat above named. It is a neatly printed and well filled sheet, abounding in a profusion of local matters—just what a country paper should be. It is an associate concern, as we infer, from the expression established by the democracy—D. J. McAdam, editor. It is democratic in politics. We wish the new paper prosperity in all but its politics.

Spring prints just received at Humberger & Son's, splendid styles, go and see them.

The republican nominations transpired last Saturday at the various wards with the following result. Everything passed off quietly—at least we have not heard of anything to the contrary. The democrats had their nominations yesterday, but we have not, at this writing, heard the result.

A gentleman and lady riding in a buggy just west of town a few days ago from some cause were tumbled off the road, when the vehicle and all rolled a considerable distance down a steep place some forty or fifty feet. Fortunately no lives were lost, though much endangered, but there was considerable breaking of buggy and things.

The snow storm which has been rambling over many places in the country within the last few days reached this place on last Thursday night. But it did not stay long, though Friday was cold.

Mr. Hoagland, the efficient canal superintendent of the portion of that work passing along here, has already finished repairs, so that water has been let into the level. This indicates that navigation will soon open.

It was reported among some of our citizens last week that Prof. Atwater, who has been preaching at the Disciples church of this place for some time, is about to make this place his residence. We hope the report may prove correct, as the advent of a man of such commanding influence will be welcomed by all good citizens.

The prospect for a good wheat crop is unusually good, not only in this region but in various parts of the country. Although the winter here has been a comparatively open one, there has been much less than usual alternations of freezing and thawing than is incident to such seasons. But the time of trial is yet to come.

The Ladies Social of the Presbyterian congregation meets on Thursday evening at Mrs. I. B. Dangier's. Refreshments will be provided and all are cordially invited.

We have printed a pretty fair portion of official bills this season, and now the time for promulgating horse bills having arrived, we have a number on hand. Having a variety of cuts we are prepared to meet the wants of customers in this line. And any other job work in our way will be speedily and satisfactorily attended to, so bring on orders for envelopes, letter heads, bill heads, circulars, posters, and lots of other things.

We are pleased to know that many of our citizens are in daily attendance at the school examination the present week which indicates an abiding interest in the progress, being made, and thus encouraging and stimulating to future efforts. We urge all to go who can.

As time passes our railroad connections north and south continue to improve. The people north and south of us are moving in the matter, and respond favorably to all appeals made by those having charge of the business. A large and successful meeting was held the other day at Cleveland, where leading men all along the line were present, when steps were made to facilitate the proposed work.

Piney Forest is the name of the female editor of Mississippi, and it is not too farfetched to say that when she "pitches in" she proves herself a talent.

The Buffalo papers are crying out against Sunday minstrel performances in that city, which are attended by large crowds of low bred men and women.

THE WORRELL TROUPE.—No one who is posted can for a moment doubt that the New York burlesque and opera bouffe company of Miss Irene Worrell is one of the best in existence. The press is unanimous in its verdict on this point and the people are always delighted and pleased with their performances. The troupe occupied the Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, the 29th and 30th inst. From the Williamsport (Pa.) Democrat, we clip the following complimentary notice, in order that Massillonians may judge for themselves of the probable merits of the company:

Irene Worrell's celebrated Burlesque Troupe composed of many of the finest male and female performers in the United States, appear at Uman's Opera House, in this city, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. On Monday they produced in fine style, the burlesque of 'Kenilworth,' and the laughable farce of the 'Two Polts.' On Tuesday evening, the laughable burlesque of 'Black Eyed Susan,' and farce of 'My Turn Next.' On both occasions they had good audiences, and every one present appeared to enjoy the performance much. Miss Irene, as is expected, was the central attraction. She is a graceful and attractive artist, and her costumes are of the richest and most beautiful description. Her songs on each occasion were well delivered and received. Her dancing—particularly her clog dancing—was excellent. Miss Lizzie Gale, was also received, and frequently applauded by the audience. Without further particularizing, which we are compelled to for want of space, we add our praise, in common with our exchanges, wherever the troupe has appeared, and pronounce it among the best and most amusing entertaining company travelling. Much, if not all the success attending the troupe, is attributable to the able management and gentlemanly deportment of Major Eddy.

A Jefferson county N. Y., farmer laughed when his prudent wife advised him not to smoke on a load of hay. He rooted it home that night, with his hair singed, most of his garments a prey to the devouring element, and the iron work of the wagon in a potato sack, and then his wife laughed.

Dear Sir:—I have stated it verbally to you, I have no hesitation in writing the fact, although not disposed in favor or to recommend patent medicines in general.

I do this more readily in regard to the sick headache cure prepared by Dr. Whittlesley, of Norwalk, Ohio. I have analyzed and tried it, and I recommend it as one of the best headache cures ever invented, and I feel that in recommending Whittlesley's cure I am doing an act of justice to the compounder of it, and an act of benevolence to those afflicted with dyspepsia and sick headache for which it is recommended.

Yours respectfully, FRANCIS RAAS, M. D.

Cheering Fact for the Bilious.

Every day demonstrates more clearly that liver complaint, in all its distressing forms, can be controlled and cured without difficulty or inconvenience. It is an obstinate disease, but its obduracy is not in itself invincible. The power of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That genial corrective compels the organ to do its duty. It must secure regularly and healthfully under the influence of the Bitters. Their action brings it back from a state of rebellion into perfect harmony with the laws of health. If there is constiveness, it disappears; if there is side-ache or back ache, it ceases; if the skin and the white of the eyes are tinged with superfluous bile, they recover their natural hue; if the appetite is gone, it returns; if the digestion is impaired, it is restored in brief, whatever the ailment, the place it has assumed, a cure is certain. Such are the uniform effects of this preparation where bilious diseases have been already developed; but in cases where there is merely a constitutional tendency to liver complaint, it may be prevented through the use of this valuable antidote. These are proven facts, and should be seriously pondered by all persons of bilious habit.

Henry T. Helmbold's COMPOUND FLUID Extract Catawba GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Constiveness, etc. Purely vegetable containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious drugs.

These pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, naphtha, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar coated, from the fact that sugar coated pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently they do not produce the desired effect. The Compound Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar coated. Price 50 cents per box.

Henry T. Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Will radically exterminate from the system scrofula, syphilis, fever sores, ulcers, sore eyes, sore legs, sore mouth, sore head, bronchitis, skin diseases, salt rheum, cankers, runnings from the ear, white swellings, tumors, cancerous affections, nodes, rickets, psoepla, and all diseases that have been established in the system for years.

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complexion a clear and healthy color, and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. And is the only reliable remedy for the cure of pains and swellings of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimples, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin, and beautifying the complexion. Price $1.00 per bottle.

Henry T. Helmbold's CONCENTRATED Fluid Extract Buchu,

The Great Diuretic, has cured every case of diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the neck of the bladder and inflammation of the kidneys, retention of the urine, gravel, and bladder, retention of the urine, gravel, milky discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with loss of memory, indisposition, weak nerves, trembling, pain in the back, hot hands, dryness of the skin, and a host of other symptoms. Used by persons from the age of fifteen to twenty-five, and from age of fifty to fifty-five, or in the decline of change of life, after confinement or labor pains; bed wetting in children.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and blood purifying, and cures diseases arising from dissipation, excess and imprudences in life, impurities of the blood, etc., supersedes copious in affections in which it is used, and syphilis affections—It cures rheumatic and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with loss of memory, indisposition, weak nerves, trembling, pain in the back, hot hands, dryness of the skin, and a host of other symptoms. Used by persons from the age of fifteen to twenty-five, and from age of fifty to fifty-five, or in the decline of change of life, after confinement or labor pains; bed wetting in children.

Ladies. In many affections peculiar to ladies, the buchu is unequalled by any other remedy—as in chlorosis, irregularity, ulcerated state of the uterus, leucorrhoea or whites, sterility, and for all complaints of the sex, whether arising from impurity of the blood, or from indigestion or other causes. It is prescribed by physicians and midwives for the enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, and all ages.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU cures diseases arising from imprudences, habits of dissipation, etc. in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to the system, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, so frequent in this class of diseases.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Price $1.50 cents per bottle.

HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH cannot be surpassed as a face wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It speedily eradicates pimples, spots, eruptions of the cutaneous membrane, and dispels redness and acrimony of the face, and gives strength to the system, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, so frequent in this class of diseases.

A correspondent of the San Joaquin Valley [Cal.] Argus gives the following new method of making butter, practiced at a rancho in Mendocino county: "While stopping at the farm, I witnessed almost novel and to me new method of making butter. While giving directions how to do it, my hostess deterred my thoughts in my face—saying is believing. 'Come,' said she, 'I will give you convincing proof.' I followed her to the milk room; I saw her place a quantity of cream in a linen sack, then roll the sack in a large cloth, and place it in a hole which had been dug in the sand for the purpose. It was then covered up with sand and a board placed over it. The next morning when removed, it came out as fine a roll of butter as I ever saw taken from a churn. It requires but little working, as the earth absorbed nearly every particle of milk. It is now five days old as I write, and just as sweet and solid as butter can be."

Is now Seven Years Old, and
"Still Lives."
Without boasting of being an organ of immense influence, we may with diffidence claim that the paper is not without usefulness in the right direction, ever contending for justice on all the living issues of the day. But its principal business has ever been to subserve the local interests of the community with which it is identified, and so it proposes to continue. Its home record of the ever varying phases of business, of the prosperity of the city, and of the social and moral state of society here, with other matters too numerous to specify, will give those who come after us, and have occasion to examine the files of this paper, a faithful history of the years of its existence.
We solicit the continued patronage of our people in the confidence that we shall render satisfaction—at least as near as we can come at it—and for such as are removing elsewhere we hope to make the INDEPENDENT a very welcome visitor.

Great Cause of Human Misery.
Just Published in a Sealed Envelope, Price six cents. A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency, mental and physical incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc.; also, consumption, epilepsy, and fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.
The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.
Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

Dr. J. LONG.
Eclectic Physician,
Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.
Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.
All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.
Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of any ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.
A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.
Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.
Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters, JAMES LONG, M. D., Massillon, Ohio. 371-17
